About the College

Al. Abdul Hakeem College was founded in 1965, as an affiliated college to the University of Madras and then affiliated to Thiruvalluvar University, Vellore. Since its inception in 2005, the college is managed by Melvisharam Muslim Educational Society. The college is reaccredited by NAAC with "A" grade and became autonomous from the academic the college offers both UG & PG courses in History, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Zoology and Commerce and also has UG courses in B. Com (C. S), Computer Applications, English (Lit) and Business Administration. M.Phil., and Ph.D., Programmes are offered by the Departments of Tamil, English, History, Mathematics, Chemistry, Zoology and Commerce. Established in 1965, the college has witnessed its Golden Jubilee year in 2015. The Institution has come a long way on the track of education by conquering the golden milestones of alluring popularity, trust of parents, inspiring appreciation from the higher-ups in the Department of their Education and so on.

About the Department

The Department of History was initiated as one of the earliest Departments in the year 1965. B.A., and M.A., programmes were started in 1966 and 1978 respectively. The Department was elevated into a research department in the year 1987 with provision made for M.Phil., Degree (Full-Time & Part-Time) and Ph.D., in the year 1999.

About the seminar

This International Seminar focuses on the topic of India's social, economy, and culture from ancient times to present day. It aims to create a forum for researchers, social scientist and historians to discuss their work and contribution in the field of social and economical, culture in Indian social studies in history. It will create an opportunity for young and experienced researchers to exchange their ideas. It will also create a research atmosphere for budding research scholars to interact with experts in the field.

About the Institution

Providence College for Women, is a general degree college located at Coonoor, The Nilgiris, Tamil Nadu. It was established in the year 1966 and is affiliated with Bharathiar University. The institution is managed and run by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Tarbes, a Catholic minority Institution registered under the Nilgiris St. Joseph's Sisters Society. It was started for the benefit of higher education of the young women and others of the locality and the Catholic community.

About the Department

The Department of Botany was started in the year 1968, with the B. Sc. Botany course and now has PG and M.Phil. programme. Every year the Department ensures a minimum of 5 university ranks which is indeed a pride. A medicinal garden, herbarium cupboard and a vermicompost unit is maintained by the Department. Through the Botany Association, FLORENCIA, the Department has been organizing various programs throughout the academic year.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Welcome to Providence. Ever since its birth on that warm morning of July 1966, Providence College for Women, has endeavored to take giant strides of progress under the able leadership of the Management, committed Principals and their team of staff. The Institution is managed and run by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Tarbes, a Catholic minority institution registered under the Nilgiris St. Joseph's Sisters Society. The institution was started for the benefit of higher education of the young women and others of the locality and the Catholic community. In addition it opens wide its arms to others from far and wide without distinction of caste or creed.

The College celebrated its Golden Jubilee during the year 2015-2016. Providence College nestles in a sprawling emerald green campus in the suburbs of the rustic town of Coonoor situated about six km, en route the Kotagiri-Coonoor Road way. The College also provides resident students with hostel facilities. The hostel is a place where they are cared for and loved and made to feel at home.
