AICUF

Code of Conduct

- To enable students to develop a critical awareness and analysis of the Indian and world situation, to cultivate a deep and genuine concern for the oppressed and marginalized and to effectively commit themselves to the task of building a new and just society.
- To help students evolve a spirituality that has humanization as its core, through involvement as its core, through involvement and reflection.
- To motivate students to become involved in studies, research and activities linked to broader social issues and struggles with a view to becoming a creative and critical force within the university.
- To enable Christian students to play a prophetic role in their communities through a living and critical understanding of their faith, drawing inspiration from the gospels, the Eucharist and their prayer life.
- As women in the universities, we understand that these institutions, though part of an unjust power structure, still provide space for debate and dissent which we shall utilize in the process of social change.
- As members of a Christian movement, we draw our inspiration from the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, in our attempt to build, in solidarity with men and women of various faiths, a new society and university in tune with the needs and aspiration of oppressed masses.
